Description

Arrive with your child in the morning
Make yourself a name tag and introduce yourself Amy Rosswurm.
Stay to supervise and help as necessary.
Be available to monitor bathroom and snack breaks so the director can prep another scene.
Intervene if a child is a bit squirrely or having other disruptive behavior.

*Please note that one day there may be many things for you to do, while another day may require relatively little effort. Either way, it is a great help to have you readily available.

*Your own smaller children should not be allowed to run around the back of the auditorium or otherwise distract you from this assignment.
